AIR FRANCE KLM MARTINAIR Cargo - Summer Schedule 2016: More routes heading west.

On the 27th of March AIR FRANCE KLM MARTINAIR Cargo will launch its summer schedule which will evidence a substantial increase in capacity between Paris and North America. Thus, a twice daily B777 service to San Francisco and Washington will operate from June through August. Service to Los Angeles will climb to 17 weekly flights from June to September. Chicago and Minneapolis will be reintroduced during the summer schedule with daily services operated by A332 and A343 respectively. In addition to the four daily flights between Paris Charles de Gaulle and New York JFK, Air France will also launch a daily B777 service between Paris Orly airport and JFK as of June. Service to Montreal and Vancouver in Canada will also be expanded. More flights will be added to other continents, with additional capacity to and from Chinese cities such as Beijing and Shanghai, which will both be flown twice daily featuring a B777, and Guangzhou which will become daily early July.

KLM's new summer schedule from Amsterdam Airport Schiphol also offers some interesting new opportunities. We plan to launch a new service to Astana in Kazakhstan – four times a week in combination with Almaty – and three times a week to Salt Lake City. From June until the end of the summer season, KLM will operate a direct flight to Kuala Lumpur thrice weekly. On our North and South Atlantic routes, we will increase flight frequencies significantly as part of our regular seasonal shift. Furthermore, KLM will increase flight frequency to secondary destinations such as Chengdu, Hangzhou, and Xiamen. Compared to last winter KLM will operate a daily flight to Osaka.

For larger and bulky cargo, we maintain ample main-deck capacity, either with our mix of B747 Combi, MD11 Freighters and B747 Freighters out of Amsterdam, or with our B777 Freighter service out of Paris Charles de Gaulle. Until June, our main-deck network extends to no fewer than 40 destinations worldwide, with a total of 90 weekly freighter or Combi services.

AIR FRANCE KLM MARTINAIR Cargo is dedicated to offering its customers the best network possibilities, thus opening up new horizons for international cargo business.
